ARCHBALD GUILTY, GETS FULL PENALTY

Judge Is Stripped of Office for "High Crimes and Misdemeanors"

IS FOREVER DISQUALIFIED

Guilty on Five of 13 Charges—Sentence Imposed by Senator Bacon. 68 Vote "Guilty"—"Oone no Wrong," Says Judge.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Robert W. Archbald, of Scranton, Pa., for 29 years an occupant of judicial positions upon the Pennsylvania bench, the Federal district bench and the United States Commerce Court, today was adjudged guilty by the United States Senate of "high crimes and misdemeanors"; was stripped of office and forever disqualified from holding positions of public honor or public trust.

The conviction of the jurist came as the conclusion of the impeachment trial that has been pending in the Senate since last Summer, on charges that Judge Archbald had been guilty of misconduct and misbehavior as a judge and that he had corruptly used his judicial power to further the private interests of himself and his friends, in the acquisition of coal land properties in Pennsylvania.

Upon five of the 13 separate charges brought against him by the House of Representatives, Judge Archbald was found guilty.

Upon the other eight the Senate voted him not guilty, the majority in some cases being against him, but failing of the two-thirds necessary for conviction. Any one of the five verdicts of guilty was enough to bring about the punishment imposed upon him.

The end of the long fought struggle in the Senate came early in the afternoon, when the vote was taken on the first article of impeachment. With gallery doors locked to prevent the movement of spectators, and an unaccustomed hush prevailing throughout the chamber, 68 Senators rose in their places as their names were called and pronounced the word "guilty" in almost inaudible tones. The vote on the first charge, that Judge Archbald had corruptly influenced officials of the Erie Railroad to sell him the Katydid culm dump at Scranton, resulted in his conviction by a vote of 68 to 5. Nineteen Senators were absent or not voting.

In a little committee room off the gallery floor behind a guarded door, Judge Archbald, his wife and his son Hugh, sat throughout the afternoon as the Senate voted upon the charges against him. The news of the first vote of conviction was carried to him by his son from the gallery. After sentence had been imposed upon him Judge Archbald and his family left the Capitol, to go at once to the family home at Scranton.

"I have always known that I have done no wrong and the vote of no one makes it otherwise," was his only comment upon the Senate's action.

Sentence was imposed by Senator Bacon, of Georgia, the presiding officer, after the Senate had, by a vote of 39 to 35 upheld a resolution offered by Senator O'Gorman, of New York, authorizing the full penalty provided by the constitution.

"The Senate, therefore, does and decrees," said Senator Bacon, "and it is hereby adjudged that the respondent, Robert W. Archbald, judge of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Third Judicial District and designated to serve in the Commerce Court, be, and he is hereby removed from office and that he be, and hereby is forever disqualified to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States."

The sentence of the Senate became operative at once and directions were given that the President and the House of Representatives be notified of the verdict and the punishment imposed.

Of the 10 men who have been impeached before the Senate since the organization of the government, Judge Archbald is the third to be convicted and the only one convicted who appeared to make a personal defense against charges.

Voting on the charges began as soon as the impeachment court had been reorganized at 1 o'clock. On each of the articles, Senator Bacon, after the secretary had read the charge to the Senate, put the formal question:

"Senators, how say you, is this respondent, Robert W. Archbald, guilty or not guilty as charged in this article?"

As the roll call proceeded, replies of "guilty" came from all parts of the chamber. Each Senator, under the rule, rose in his seat and gave his verdict; but notwithstanding the silence that prevailed throughout the chamber, many had to be asked to repeat their votes to make their replies audible to the secretary. Robert W. Archbald, Jr., who sat with his father's counsel on the floor of the Senate, exhibited great feeling as it became apparent that the vote was overwhelmingly for conviction.

The first article charged that Judge Archbald had gone to officials of the Erie Railroad while that road had a suit pending in the Commerce Court,

HON. JOSEPHUS DANIELS

BIG LINER STILL HELD FAST

All Efforts to Free the Steamer Uranium, Aground Near Halifax, Prove Futile—Passengers Safely Transferred

Halifax, N. S., January 13.—So firm and fast is the steamer Uranium lodged on the rocks near Chebucto head, where she ran aground in yesterday's fog, that no amount of straining by the fleet of nine tugs pulled her a foot toward liberty this afternoon. After three ineffective attempts to float her, one of which threatened to land another vessel, the tug Scotsman, on the ledge beside here, Captain Eustace decided he would have to lighter the ship before she could be extricated.

Of the 880 passengers who were trans-shipped to rescue craft, many left here for their destination during the day. Six hundred and forty-three, examined by United States immigration inspectors during the afternoon, expected to leave late tonight for New York.

The Uranium lies tonight on an almost even keel, with her forward bulkhead stove in and two more feet of water in it than she had last night. Captain Eustace believes she will be pulled off the rocks and will float when she is freed, but some of those working to extricate her are not so certain of this. Life preservers lie heaped on her deck ready for instant use, for should the wind shift and the sea run strong there is danger that she might break in two. The cargo, which Captain Eustace ordered removed, weighs about 1,400 tons.

It was while playing a good Samaritan on the seas that the Uranium came to grief, Captain Eustace said today. Bound from Rotterdam to New York, turned out of her course on January 9th to answer a wireless call for help. The message was from the steamer Carthagenian. It said that fire was raging aboard and that it was beyond control.

For three days the Uranium groped through the fog trying to find and succor the burning vessel, then the Carthagenian sent word by wireless that the fire was subdued. The Uranium retraced her tracks, reaching the entrance to Halifax harbor in a dense fog. The Egg Island buoy was sighted, but not the intervening buoy and without this to guide her the Uranium crashed into Chebucto head light.

PLANS TO CHANGE CUSTOMS SERVICE

Treasury Department Will Shortly Begin Work of Reorganization

ABOLISH SEVERAL OFFICERS

Naval Officers and Surveyors Will be Done Away With—Sub-ports Will be Consolidated With Ports of Entry.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The Treasury Department's tentative plan for the re-organization of the customs service, it was learned today, contemplates the abolition of all customs naval officers and surveyors of customs, confining the port administration to collectors and deputy collectors.

It also is the department's intention to deprive the collectors at ports along the Great Lakes and the Canadian border of their present perequisites for the sale of manifest blanks and to turn this revenue into the treasury. At some of the smallest ports, where the salary of the collector is only $2,500, fees from the sales of manifests are believed by officials to raise their compensation to a large amount, even $15,000 or $20,000 in some instances. At New York and all actual seaports, the collector, years ago, lost the returns from the sale of manifests.

When former President Chester A. Arthur was collector at New York, he like others, was paid on a commission and fee basis and his compensation is said to have reached over $100,000 a year. This situation drew the attention of Congress, and all "seaports" were placed on a strictly salary basis. The principle, however, has never been extended to some lake and Canadian border ports.

The abolition of the naval officers will mark the passing of one of the most historic characters in the history of the United States. He is a relic of the Colonial days. When America was part of the British Empire, a local man was appointed as a collector of customs at the various ports and the King of England sent over a naval officer as his personal representative to check up the operations of the collector. The position thus had its beginning and the duties of the naval officer has grown until treasury officials claim that he amounts to a second collector. These seven ports have naval officers: New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, New Orleans and San Francisco. The salary at New York is $8,000 and at the others $5,000.

In reducing the existing 165 customs districts to less than 50, the Treasury Department's plan provides for placing each district in charge of a colector and each port in charge of a deputy collector. No existing port will be abolished and many sub-ports will be made ports. There is keen rivalry for the headquarters of each district, which will be the office of the collector. The treasury officials maintain this location means little or nothing.

In New York State the existing 10 districts will be reduced to four, with headquarters at New York City, Buffalo, Rochester and Ogdensburg. The State of Ohio and Erie county, Pa., will constitute one district, with Cleveland as headquarters. Cincinnati is strongly clamoring for the location of the collector.

Nothing is known about the details of other ports. F. M. Halstead, chief of the customs divisions, returned to Washington today from Norfolk and Newport News, where he investigated the claims of these cities to the headquarters of the Virginia customs district. Both cities will submit briefs before Mr. Halstead makes his report to Secretary MacVeagh. The Treasury Department had intended making Newport News the office of the collector because more merchandise is imported there than at Norfolk.

SURVEY THE SITUATION.

Important Year in Suffrage Movement, Says President Shaw.

New York, Jan. 13.—A general survey of the woman suffrage situation throughout the United States, with fresh reports from all of the States, is planned by suffrage organizations of New York at a mass meeting in Carnegie Hall February 17th. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National organization, declares that this is going to be one of the most important years in the history of the movement.

"We expect the Legislatures of several States to pass on the suffrage amendment in the next few weeks," she said. "It is sure to pass in Michigan, for the men are very indignant over the treatment the women there received last year when the amendment was said to be defeated by a close vote. We might have demanded a recount, but we decided to let the matter come up at the April election when the country vote is also strong. The country vote has carried suffrage against the city vote in every State except Kansas and there they have municipal suffrage for many years, which proves that women do use the suffrage when they have it."

Dr. Shaw said South Dakota, Tennessee, Maine, Missouri and Montana were among the most hopeful States this year and that Kentucky and Virginia both were enthusiastic.

WILSON PREDICTS PARTY SOLIDARITY

President-elect Says He Will Pick Only Progressives to Aid Him

HE ANALYZES HIS ELECTION

In a Speech to N. J. Electors He Interprets Victory as Distinct Expression of Progressive Impulses.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 13.—Governor Wilson, for whom the majority of the States in the Union today officially cast their electoral votes for the Presidency, proclaimed in a speech to the New Jersey Presidential electors that he interpreted his election as the distinct expression of the progressive impulses of the country.

"I shall not be acting as a partisan when I pick out progressives, and only progressives, to aid me," the Governor said in analyzing the spirit that he said had produced his election. The Governor predicted no division in the counsels of the Democratic party, but foresaw solidarity.

"These Democrats," he said, "who hitherto have been slow to align themselves with the progressive banner of the party, are everywhere yielding. The business men of the country, too, are swinging around to an unselfish and broader view of their duties to the people."

The speech was delivered at a luncheon given the electors by the Democratic State Executive Committee just before the official ballot was cast. It was the last public speech Governor Wilson will make before his inauguration.

"I feel that it would be unbecoming in me," he said, "to make a speech today in any other tone than that of a man who believes that he is speaking for the men with whom he is associated. Some men have been slow to observe, but the majority of us have seen that the people of the United States have taken a definite choice. I happen to be one of the instruments through whom that choice is expressed, but I am for the time, and that choice is for the long future. The people of the United States have turned their faces in a definite direction, and any party, any man who does not go with them in that direction they will reject, and they ought to reject.

"Therefore, in looking forward to the responsibilities that I am about to assume, I feel first, last and all the time that I am acting in a representative capacity. I am bidden to interpret as well as I can the purposes of the people of the United States and to act, so far as my choice determines the action, only through the instrumentality of persons who also represent that choice. I have no liberty in the matter. I have given bonds, my sacred honor is involved, and nothing more could be involved. Therefore, I shall not be acting as a partisan when I pick out progressives and only progressives. I shall be acting as a representative of the people of this great country and therefore, it is a matter of supreme pleasure to me to find in every direction as I turn about from one group of men to another, that men's minds and men's consciences and men's purposes are yielding to

DISMEMBERMENT OF ROAD TO BE INQUIRED INTO

Representative Kellum, of New Hanover, Introduces Important Resolution in General Assembly—Constitutional Convention—Daniels for Cabinet—To Prevent Hazing — The Legislature.

(By Wm. J. Martin.)

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 13.—Representative Woodus Kellum, of New Hanover, introduced in the North Carolina General Assembly today, what promises to be one of the most important measures of the session to the eastern part of the State. It is a joint resolution for the Corporation Commission to investigate the receivers' sale of the old Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad, Wilmington to Mount Airy, and its dismemberment and division between the Atlantic Coast Line and the Southern Railway, as at present operated, this investigation to be as to any conspiracy to block competition in violation of the terms of the charter of the railroad or in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, the Attorney General to prosecute, if evidence of such conspiracy is shown.

Other special features of the General Assembly today were the introduction of a bill by Stubbs, of Martin county, for a constitutional convention, the proposition to be voted on in the 1914 general election and the convention to have the same representation in number of delegates as the present House of Representatives; bills by Stewart, of Mecklenburg, making hazing by college students a misdemeanor punishable by 12 months in prison, and another requiring mileage to be pulled on trains.

The House adopted a resolution urging Josephus Daniels for Postmaster General in President Wilson's cabinet.

The Senate Committee on Federal relations, voted this afternoon to report favorably Senator Watts' bill to ratify the 17th amendment to the Federal constitution for election of Senators by direct vote of the people.

The House Committee on Constitutional Amendment, Mr. Justice chairman, has discussed informally this session the question of submitting to the General Assembly specific acts amending the constitution or calling a constitutional convention for the settlement of all the matters before the people at this time. The committee possibly may ask the House to confer upon it power of initiating amendments by reports in form of bills. There will soon be a joint meeting with the Senate Committee on Constitutional Amendments with a view to determining upon some action in harmony.

The resolution of Mr. Kellum relative to the A. & Y., alleges that the division of the road is in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. The Corporation Commission is to report findings to the Attorney General who is directed to institute suit to break up the combination, if grounds for such proceeding develop. The division of the road is alleged to greatly hamper services in that it used to be that, with through service through freight, Wilmington to Mount Airy, required only 36 hours, but now five days and longer are required to get shipments through either way. The allegation is that the Atlantic & Yadkin Railroad Co., that bought the road, was formed solely with a view to making the division between the Southern and Atlantic Coast Line.

Free Lumber Indicated

Washington, January 13. — Free rough and dressed lumber, hewn and squared timber, shingles, laths and fence posts, retention of approximately the present high tariff on the higher grades of silk and reductions in the cheaper silks used by the common people, and a penalizing, drastic tariff bar to shut out "dynamited" silk, were indicated today as parts of the expected Democratic recision programme.

The House Committee on Ways and Means devoted the day to hearings on the wood and silk schedules of the tariff law, and when the testimony and examinations were closed the sentiment favored the inclusion of the provisions, possibly, together with free meats, in the tentative plan the committee will frame to submit to the extra session of Congress.

The burden of the testimony on the wood schedule was a plea for the preservation of the present rates. Silk, involving immense interests, presented a complexity of technicalities greater than in any of the other 13 schedules of the tariff law.

"Silks," according to Horace B. Cheney, of South Manchester, Conn., as spokesman for the silk manufacturers of the country, "depend upon fashion; if women want anything they'll pay the amount they have to get it."

"Women always want something that looks fancy," said C. A. Streuli, of New York, waving aloft a hat lining, joining with Samuel Kridel, another importer, in protest against the present tariff on velvets, ribbons and other things.

"Silks are a luxury; that is most silks," commented Chairman Underwood, of the committee.

Mr. Underwood outlined his view in which he represents the Democratic majority of the committee that will frame the new schedule.

"We want to get a large amount of revenue on luxuries," said Mr. Underwood, "so that we can put a less tax on the necessities of life. Where there is a large percentage of imports, we don't want to cut the rates. We are desirious, however, of cutting the rates where there is no competition and no revenue."

Representative Hill, of Connecticut, gave names of firms, that, he said, fix concurrent prices, distribute territory and give 10 per cent rebates to importers here.

Chairman Underwood, in declaring his view that all "dynamited" or overweighted silks, constituting a large class of import traffic were a fraud upon the public, told of an umbrella that he had which he had folded away for some time, rotted so that it broke in creases when he next used it. He had in mind hosiery that left its color imprint upon the wearer and other things of similar "dynamite" or tinned silk character.

"We have promised the people to put lumber on the free list," said Representative James, of Kentucky, during testimony of George W. Jones, of Norfolk, Va., on the wood schedule, "and if we fail to put it on the free list, it seems to me we will break that pledge."

Mr. Jones, representing the North Carolina Pine Association and speaking for saw mill producers in Virginia and the Carolinas, said that if it were necessary for the Democratic party to carry out its purpose of revision to make the lumber manufacturers the victims of a "vicarious sacrifice," he would acquiesce, but he believed that lumber was in a class by itself on a revenue instead of a protective basis. He said he would not oppose removing the duties on lumber if the duty were removed on articles lumber mills have to use.

"Take the tariff off and we can still dispose of our lumber," he said, "but we are already selling some of our low grade lumber at less than cost."

Mr. Jones thought trusts had been built up under a protective tariff, but that was not true of the lumber industry, where competition was keen.

"Isn't is true," asked Mr. James, "that in the West all the stumpage is owned by two great concerns?"

"I am not familiar with the West. But in North Carolina half the standing timber is owned by the farmers."

The witness said the lumber people always had been unfairly discriminated against.

"I don't understand that the Democratic platform intends to make lumber the goat," he said.

Mr. Jones conceded that elimination of the tariff would cheapen lumber.

"So do I," agreed Representative James. "That's why I am for it."

"The country is not ready for any free trade bill; the government has got to get some revenue," retorted the witness.

Representative James expounded the mission of the Democratic party as to get sufficient revenue to run the government without imposing a tariff on those articles that are needed by all the people.

The witness said that while Canada was now the only lumber competitor, with much less freight rates to New York than from the Carolinas, Mexico was "standing at our doors," a threatened competitor. Representative Hill, of Connecticut, said he thought there was nothing to fear from Mexico; that there was more apprehension warranted from abroad, particularly Siberia. The witness insisted that free lumber was not consistent with forestry conservation.

Other witnesses also gave testimony favoring the retention of the lumber tariff. The hearing tomorrow will be on the metal tariff.

JURY OUT ALL NIGHT.

No Verdict Yet in Case of Hewlett Against the City.

The Superior Court jury in the case of A. D. Hewlett by his next friend, J. B. Hewlett, against the City of Wilmington, for $5,000 damages for an alleged fall over a water pipe in the streets, after being out from 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, retired at 11 o'clock last night without arriving at a verdict.

Yesterday afternoon the case of Joseph Jones, a white man, against the Wynnewood Lumber Co., for $20,000 alleged damages for personal injuries, was taken up, a jury secured and pleadings read before court adjourned for the day.

The habeas corpus proceedings instituted Saturday by Rosa Howard, colored, against Nick Nixon and wife, also colored, for the custody of her two children, Katie May and Daisy Bell Howard, came up for hearing at 1:30 o'clock yesterday before Judge Lyon. Ricaud & Jones stated that they had just been employed in the case to represent the respondents and moved for dismissal of the action on the ground that the 10 days' notice required by statute had not been given. Cyrus D. Hogue, Esq., counsel for the petitioner, resisted the motion. Judge Lyon held that the required notice to the respondents should be given, but declined to dismiss the action. He continued the hearing until next Monday, which is just 10 days from the date the writ of habeas corpus was sued out. This will give both sides ample time to prepare their case. The petitioner contends that three years ago she allowed her children to go live with the respondents with the understanding that she should have them back whenever she asked for them. She claims that the respondents now try to compel her to pay them $75 in order to regain the possession of her children. Her contention is that the services of the children have been sufficient compensation for their board. Mr. Ricaud said that the respondents would attempt to show at the hearing that the mother of the children was irresponsible not only financially but morally and also that the children had been with the respondents for a period nearer five than three years.

COLD WAVE THIS WEEK.

Low Temperatures to Continue for Next Three Days.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The week will open with a cold wave east of the Mississippi river and low temperature will continue during the first half of the week, with generally fair weather, according to the weekly bulletin issued by the Weather Bureau today.

"In the Middle West," says the bulletin, "temperature will be rising by Tuesday, preceding and attending the eastward movement of a low pressure area now over the Pacific Northwest.

"Snows will accompany this depression, and by Tuesday will cover the western portion of the country except the West Gulf States.

"To the eastward rain and snow and rising temperatures may be expected after the middle of the week, while in the West there will be a return to fair and colder weather with the eastward movement.

"Another high pressure area now is over Alaska. Toward the end of the week another disturbance will appear over the Far Northwest, accompanied by rising temperatures and unsettled weather."

ETTOR MAKES DENIAL

Says He Was Misquoted on Advice to Striking Waiters

Lawrence, Mass., January 12.—Declaring that he had been misunderstood in reports of a talk made to striking hotel employes of New York last Friday night, Joseph F. Ettor, labor leader, made public tonight a letter he has written to the Hotel Workers to explain his position. Ettor was quoted as saying to the hotel workers:

"If you are compelled to go back under satisfactory conditions, go back with your minds made up that it is the unsafest thing in the world for the capitalist to eat food prepared by members of your union."

Ettor says in his letter:

"I did not make the remarks alleged, nor do I believe the suggestion they (newspapers) claim can be taken out of my talk is a policy I advise you to follow, for I am satisfied that the course they insinuate and attribute to me would not bring success, but the opposite. Your cause is not to be won by any policy that endangers human life."

MEDICAL SOCIETY CALLED

Will Investigate Sources of Article That Appeared In New York Paper Recently Concerning Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt

Noting in a local newspaper an article that had been reproduced from the New York Globe and Commercial Advertiser, purporting to be a humorous sketch on the health conditions and improvements in sanitation that have been made during the present while it does not quote him directly, administration, several members of the New Hanover Medical Society yesterday requested a meeting to be held tonight at which the article will be considered. The article in question, leaves the impression that the information contained therein was given out by Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, during a recent visit there, and which was considered by several physicians as a serious reflection on them and on the city generally.

Dr. Nesbitt states that he did not see the article until he returned to the city and he did not know until he returned here that anything had been printed about him in the metropolitan papers.

However, Dr. Nesbitt was served with notice yesterday by the local society that a meeting would be held tonight and he was asked to appear before the body and make an explanation of the article. The call for the meeting was signed by Dr. J. G. Murphy, president, and Dr. Ernest S. Bulluck, secretary. Dr. Nesbitt said yesterday that it would be a great pleasure for him to appear before the board and make an explanation of the article so far as his information went concerning it. In fact, he rather welcomed the opportunity since the article had been published locally.

The article in the New York paper was written, Dr. Nesbitt says, by Herbert Corey, assistant city editor of the Globe and Commercial Advertiser, and was rather in a humorous vein.

The following statement was given out yesterday by Dr. Nesbitt, who formerly lived in New York city and had among the newspaper profession in that city a large number of friends:

"I met Herbert Corey in the office of a friend of his while in New York some weeks ago and we were all discussing the conditions in the Borough of Queens. The facts stated by Corey in his article with reference to the Borough of Queens were appropriated from my statement and the statement of another man who was present who lived in that Borough and who was very angry on account of the high taxation. I expressly asked Corey not to identify me with any story about Queensborough because of the fact that the Commissioners had been very kind to me and because my opinion with reference to those matters was without value. At no time and at no place was the work in Wilmington discussed by me either with Corey or in his presence. My scrap books containing all the newspaper mention of the work in Wilmington were loaned to a newspaper friend of mine in New York and there was no other way for Corey to have obtained any information with reference to Wilmington save through these newspaper clippings or through conversation with my friend. I positively refused on two occasions while in New York to make the health work in Wilmington the subject of newspaper articles.

"On another occasion a newspaper reporter was sent to my house for the purpose of obtaining an interview for publication either on Borough of Queens or the work in Wilmington. This was refused because I did not consider either of the subjects matters for newspaper discussion.

"I personally resented that article as much as anybody could because it not only made many misstatements about the work, but that it put me in the position of abusing the hospitality of the Commissioners of the Borough of Queens. The article was clearly intended as a humorous space-filler and its extravagances should be sufficient guarantee that no person would take it seriously.

"It is incredible that anyone of intelligence could believe that a sane man would be the author of such easily mis-statements and obvious absurdities as contained in that article."

Mr. T. A. Green Returns.

After spending a day and night in the city on business, Mr. T. A. Green, who is promoting the new commercial hotel to be erected at southeast corner of Front and Walnut streets, left Sunday afternoon for his home at Spartanburg, S. C. As stated in Sunday's Star, Mr. Green has purchased the interest of Mr. W. C. Petty, of Charlotte, in the proposed site for the hotel and he is now the sole owner of the property. Mr. Green told friends that he certainly proposed to build the hotel and that it is very probable that building will begin some time this year.

Before Justice Harriss.

The case against George Mandy, and Richard and Oscar Suggs, colored, in which assault with deadly weapons is charged by Mr. H. Stein, will be brought before the Recorder's court this morning from the court of Justice Harriss. The cases against Mr. D. D. George and Sam Wilson, a negro, who had some trouble down at Masonboro Sound when the negro drew from his pocket a pair of nickle-plated pliers, which looked very much like a gun, and Mr. George fired on him with a shotgun, will be heard before the Recorder tomorrow.

ANNEXATION IS FAVORED

County Commissioners on Record to Secure New Territory—Bill Will be Drafted and Presented to Legislature.

One of the most advanced steps taken by the New Hanover Board of County Commissioners in many years was the adoption of a resolution yesterday afternoon heartily favoring the annexation of the whole of Northwest township and part of Town Creek township, in Brunswick county, and the erection of a bridge across the Cape Fear river, probably at Grace street, where a better grade can be secured. The bridge can be constructed and the approaches on the west side of the river built for $150,000, it is estimated.

The action of the Commissioners followed a presentation of the matter by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, composed of Messrs. W. D. MacMillan and Louis E. Hall, and their attorney, Hon. John D. Bellamy. It was argued that by bridging the Cape Fear at this point a rich farming country will be opened up to Wilmington. Mr. MacMillan said that it is planned to buy the present ferry at Market street and use as much of the causeway on the other side of the river as is practicable. The bridge will be a substantial affair and provision will be made for a railroad track. It is argued that the railroad over the bridge would not only be a source of revenue in the way of tolls, but it would aid materially in the development of that section.

The following resolution, which explained the matter quite fully, was adopted:

"Whereas, the Legislature of North Carolina at its session of 1911 passed an act to establish a free ferry over the Cape Fear river and road across Eagles' Island at Wilmington, and notwithstanding the said road lies almost entirely and for the space of two miles in Brunswick county, the act provided that New Hanover county should pay more than two-thirds of the entire cost and maintenance and Brunswick less than one-third, and,

"Whereas, notwithstanding this unique apportionment New Hanover was willing to establish the same, and Brunswick county refused to act or to unite in any way in the establishment thereof, and

"Whereras, the inhabitants of Northwest township and part of Town Creek township in said Brunswick county, are very anxious to secure a free and adequate entrance to the City of Wilmington, and the Chamber of Commerce representing the business men and people of Wilmington have appointed a committee to solicit the approval of the board to the project of a free bridge across the Cape Fear river and a road across Eagles' Island, and the annexation of the above territory of Brunswick county to this county, now be it resolved,

"1. That this board hereby heartily approves of the project of building said free bridge and road across Cape Fear river and Eagles' Island.

"2. That it hereby approves of the proposition to annex that portion of Brunswick county to the county of New Hanover, which lies north of a line beginning where Brunswick river empties into the Cape Fear river, runs thence up said river to McIlhenny's Creek, thence northeastwardly up said creek to the point where the Georgetown road crosses Jackey's Creek, thence a straight line westwardly to the point where the three townships of Northwest, Lockwood's Folly and Waccamaw in Brunswick county interesect or join Columbus county.

"3. That the Board of Commissioners of this county approves of an issue of the necessary amount of bonds for the purpose of carrying out the project together with the improvement of the roads in New Hanover county, as it will be constituted after the proposed annexation is effected.

"4. That the county attorneys be and they are hereby instructed to unite with the counsel of the Chamber of Commerce in drawing the necessary bills to be passed by the Legislature to effectively and successfully accomplish the purpose intended."

TIME TO PLAY BALL.

Meeting of Baseball Fans Called for the Thirty-First.

Messrs. Harry Marks and Clyde Eby, and Dr. Jos. F. Patterson, of the Newbern Athletic Association, have addressed a letter to baseball fans in Eastern Carolina, inviting them to a meeting to be held in the Hotel Kennon, at Goldsboro, at 8 o'clock P. M., January 31st. This meeting will put the question of organizing a league up to the leading eastern towns, and if Wilmington intends to "play ball" this season it will be necessary to send a delegation to this meeting, with instructions to act, so that the town may take part in the great National game this Spring and Summer.

OAKDALE MEETING HELD

Sixtieth Annual Session of the Company Held Last Night—Secretary Jones' First Absence in Forty-seven Years

The sixtieth annual meeting of the Oakdale Cemtery Company was held last night in the offices of the company in the Odd Fellows' Building. Dr. W. C. Galloway was called to the chair and Mr. W. H. Howell acted as secretary. Reports were heard from the president, treasurer and superintendent, and those were ordered filed. They showed that the condition of the company is eminently satisfactory in every way, and were discussed and commented upon with interest.

It was stated that decided improvements would be made during the coming year, improvements that would add still greater beauty to a spot said by visitors to be one of the most beautiful to be found anywhere, certainly one of the most beautiful cemeteries in the entire country.

Mr. William E. Springer was elected president, and the following were named as directors: Messrs. W. H. Northrop, H. L. Fennel, T. O. Bunting, W. H. Yopp, M. W. Divine and J. T. King. A secretary, treasurer and superintendent will be named by the directors at a later meeting.

For the first time in 47 years, Mr. Richard J. Jones, secretary, was absent from the annual meeting, being confined at his home by a slight indisposition. His absence was a subject of interested comment, and his fellow members of the company spoke highly and appreciatively of his long and faithful service.

BIDDING FOR PLANT.

Big Concern to Locate—Son Sees Father—Other Items.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Jan. 13.—Kinston and Goldsboro are the towns which have been favorably considered by the Virginia Box & Lumber Company, of Petersburg, since the decision of that concern, a corporation of extensive means, to locate a large sawmill in this section. The management, in a letter to the secretary of the Newbern Chamber of Commerce, stated that it was believed the company could work out a more advantageous proposition at one or the other of these places. However, the Newbern official was invited to set forth any special inducements which his city had to make for the new enterprise, and a mass meeting was called to discuss the matter by the citizens there. It seems that the chambers of commerce of both Goldsboro and this city have offered the Virginia company very attractive propositions. The preference of the owners will probably be in large part decided by the availableness of timber, freight rates, etc., and the favors advanced by the business men in the several communities. The plant to be installed will be of large proportions, employing a considerable number of men. Material benefits will accrue to the community in which it is located. The company is expected to arrive at a definite conclusion regarding the location of the plant in a short time.

Recently T. D. Blackburn, a well known tobacco man of this city, had an experience such as seldom falls to the lot of a man whose life is usually of even tenor. He met his father for the first time in 37 years. When Blackburn's mother died he was four years of age. The father, his home thus broken up, put the little son in charge of a grandmother, who lived in Danville, Va., and went West. Until a year or two ago he was in Los Angeles, teaching for 34 years in succession in the schools. Upon his return to the East he located in Mt. Airy, N. C., and it was agreed that at the first opportunity the son whom he had not seen in nearly two-score years should visit him. A few days ago the Kinston man went to Mt. Airy and gladdened the paternal heart by a stay of two days. The elder Blackburn was delighted, and very probably kenned with approval the son of 41 whom he had last taken to his bosom when four and curly headed. Filial interest ran rampant, and the father promised to come to Kinston for a visit in the early Spring. The long-absent parent is Capt. T. G. Blackburn, 71 years of age, a veteran of the Confederate army. In a regiment of Virginia foot soldiers he saw service in North Carolina during the War Between the States, serving with distinction.

Work on the foundations of two dormitories being erected at the Kennedy Memorial Home, the eastern branch of the Thomasville Baptist orphanage near here, is progressing rapidly, although inclement weather has delayed operations for several days past. A deal of material is on the premises, and the buildings will probably be completed in time for their occupancy next Fall.

WEDDING AT LUMBERTON

Jewish Couple Married—An Accident —Other News Notes

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Lumberton, N. C., January 13.—A beautiful marriage ceremony was solemnized at the Jewish synagogue at 6 o'clock yesterday evening. Mr. Jake Cohen, of Rowland, and Miss Yetta Wolf, of Fairmont, were the contracting parties, Rabbi M. Shockett officiating. A large crowd was present and as many were outside as were inside the synagogue. After the ceremony the newly wedded couple and friends took conveyances for the residence of Mr. S. Weinstein where a reception was given in honor of the bride and groom, lasting until a late hour. Many visitors were here from several cities and towns away from Lumberton.

As the result of a feed pump breaking down at the power plant last night the town was in darkness from 7:20 to 8 o'clock. Before the pump could be repaired the water had gone so low in the boiler that the fire had to be drawn and another boiler fired up before the lights could be turned on again. Engineer Boney is to be commended for throwing the town into darkness for the comparatively short time rather than risk turning the cold water into a boiler that was empty. The Baptist church congregation had to be dismissed on account of no lights but at the Methodist and Presbyterian churches the oil lamps were lighted and the services continued.

Marshall Davis White,, 15 years old, residing at B. G. Farm, four miles north of Lumberton, accidentally shot himself through the left hand while fooling with a pistol late this evening. He was brought to town and Dr. McPhaul dressed his injuries.

Three small houses owned and occupied by colored people west of town burned this morning. There was no insurance on either building or contents.

THE INAUGURATION

Raleigh Planning for the Big Day To-Tomorrow

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., January 13.—Raleigh is decorating and getting ready in every other respect for the ceremonies Wednesday, inaugurating Hon. Locke Craig, of Asheville, as Governor. The parade, military and civic moves at 11:45 from Yarborough Hotel, headed by Governor Craig and State officers, up Fayetteville street via Capitol Square, around it to west and north to Wilmington street, thence to North street and Blount, via Governor's Mansion. Here greetings will be exchanged by Governor-elect Craig and Governor Kitchin. Thereafter the procession will move back to Capitol Square via Edenton, Salisbury and Morgan streets, into Fayetteville street, and thence to the auditorium for the inaugural ceremony. Thereafter, the military parade will re-form and be reviewed by Governor Craig and party from the Yarborough Hotel balcony.

There will be a luncheon at the Governor's Mansion in the afternoon, an informal public reception during the evening and the inaugural ball thereafter in the auditorium.

PROGRESSIVE WILSON

Citizens Meet and Discuss Measures—Other News Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., January 13.—This town is very much interested in the proposed mass meeting of citizens announced to be held tonight. The original purpose of the meeting was the consideration of a bill to be presented to the Legislature asking for authority to issue bonds amounting to $195,000 to be used for the improvement and enlargement of the light and power plant, the grading and paving of streets and the erection of a gas plant.

The sentiment seems to be growing to increase the bond issue in order to build and equip a municipal street railway system and a local telephone system. Advocates of these improvements will propose them at the meeting. Wilson has been remarkably successful in the management of the municipal light and power plant, the waterworks and the sewerage system and the town has been able to furnish these modern conveniences to the people at a very low rate and in municipal ownership are favoring the building of the street railway system and still others are proposing a local municipal telephone system.

There has been considerable complaint concerning the local telephone plant and its operation and the matter of better service has been considered by the Chamber of Commerce on various occasions. The result of the mass meeting tonight is awaited with considerable interest for the further reason that there is a strong sentiment in favor of a limited commission form of government and this will come up for discussion.

The Atlantic Christian College opened the Spring term this week with a largely increased attendance and the management is to be congratulated. The president, Dr. Caldwell, is put to it to provide for the new pupils and the necessity of additional dormitories is very evident. At the present time a number of young men have been forced to secure rooms in residences and the fact is that sufficient accommodation can hardly be had.

Mr. Kitchin H. Watson has torn away the frame building belonging to him on North Goldsboro street, one of the landmarks, and will immediately erect a two-story brick building. The lower story is already rented and will be occupied by the Welfare Auto Co., as a show room for new machines.

The addition to the New Briggs Hotel, which is badly needed, is nearing completion and will soon be ready for occupancy. This addition will enable the hotel to serve meals. Wilson is possibly the only town in this section which has been without sufficient hotel accommodations. The dining room of the New Briggs has been closed for several months on account of the building operations and guests of the hotel have been obliged to go to restaurants for meals.

W. E. Batts has purchased the interest of H. L. Bailey in the Moody-Carroll Company. Mr. Bailey retires from active business.

Wiley Webb, of this county, killed a mammoth hog this week and a large crowd gathered at his farm to witness the event. The hog was 34 months old and weighed gross 1,042 pounds. When dressed the weight was 847 pounds. The head weighed 90 pounds and one of the shoulders tipped the beam at 104 pounds. This seems to be the record-breaker in this section.

"WILSON COUNTY CORN"

Not In the Liquid But On the Ear—Other News Items

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., January 13.—A number of farmers of Wilson county gathered in the Court House Saturday and exhibited specimen ears of Wilson county corn. Representatives of the State Agricultural Department were present and delivered addresses. They impressed the necessity of strong seed corn and distinct types. The interest in corn culture in this county is growing steadily.

Wilson county men who are stockholders in the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company are worried over the outcome of differences between the stockholders of the company. This concern operates a warehouse here and recently the directors decided to sell all of the property of the company. When the bids were received however, they were rejected and a meeting of the stockholders has been called to consider further steps.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church is to hold an all-day service Monday in the interest of World-wide Missions. The society is proposing to do aggressive work during the year.

Another report of successful farming. This time Wiley Rountree, a tenant on the farm of J. B. Farrior, reports 4,615 pounds of seed cotton from two acres. This is but a fraction less than two bales to the acre.

The scarcity of houses is worrying the people here. One rental agent announces that he can easily find tenants for 50 houses. A large part of the demand is for houses of the better type.

Plans for Smoker Laid.

At the meeting of the Central Trades Council Thursday night of this week plans will be laid for a smoker at which all the working men of the city and suburbs will be present. In addition to the social pleasures of the event will be interesting addresses by able speakers of the State and other States. The occasion will doubtless call out one of the largest assemblages of laboring men the city has ever seen. Mr. J. Danna Jones, an active union labor man, is the author of the suggestion that such a meeting be held.

JUST "DRIFTING" NOW.

Erstwhile Famous Jockey Up for Stealing Few Pennies.

New York, Jan. 13.—Grover Cleveland Fuller, a jockey who made $300,000 for James R. Keene, and $75,000 for himself in one season 10 years ago, pleaded guilty today to having stolen a pocketbook containing a few pennies from an acquaintance in an uptown saloon. He was remanded for sentence Friday. Fuller said he had not been doing anything lately except "drifting."

THE FESTIVE WOODMEN

Installed Officers and Enjoyed Annual Oyster Roast Last Night

Live Oak Camp, No. 6, Woodmen of the World, had the two-fold pleasure last evening of installing its officers for the ensuing term and of enjoying the annual oyster roast at the Sound, which is always a feature of pleasant interest for all. The officers were installed by Past Consul Commander W. P. Farrar and they are as follows:

Consul Commander—C. L. Williamson.

Advisory Lieutenant—W. D. Weathersbee.

Escort—E. D. Harvey.

Banker—W. H. Howell.

Clerk—Geo. C. Jackson.

Watchman—W. E. Davis.

Sentry—Geo. T. Hewlett.

Managers—W. G. A. Otersen, John E. Wood and J. W. Fleet.

Camp Physicians—Bullock & Bullock, R. H. Bellamy and J. A. Dosher.

After the installation about 75 of the wood choppers boarded a special car of the Tidewater Power Co., and betook themselves to the Lighthouse on Wrightsville Sound, where the luscious bivalves were enjoyed to the content of the inner man. Several members responded with short, snappy addresses that kept the fun going from start to finish. It was one of the most pleasant affairs, indeed, in the history of the local camp, which has a long and distinguished career in the fraternal order world of Wilmington.

The feature of the evening was an oyster eating contest by three of the members, these being Messrs. George Harriss, W. A. McGowan and S. A. Matthews. The contest was called off owing to the fact that the oysters gave out before this trio was half through. Mr. Matthews still holds the medal as he won the contest last year. Sergeant Woody Howell, of the police department, declined to enter the contest and Mr. Walter E. Yopp was unable to attend. The following toast was given by one of the members:

"I am a Woodman, but I chop no tree,
But I eat these oysters when they are free;
I attend no meetings of the Woodmen's camp,
But I eat their oysters till I get the cramp.
Now in my heart, I'm a Woodman still
So I eat their oysters till I get my fill.
So please don't stop me, for goodness sake,
Until I get the stomach ache!
I know of others who can oysters eat,
They are Alex, Dock and "Billy" Fleet;
And then there're others who wish they could
Store them away like Jno. E. Wood.
To feed Jackson, Ottersen and Pinky Farrar
It takes two men, a boy and an extra wheelbarrow,
Then there's another one I'll not embarrass,
I'll simply say it is George Harriss.
And still another one's a sooner—
You all know who—'tis Richard Spooner.
It is time to stop with this hot air,
I was making room for some good Schlitz beer."

Tuesday, January 14, 1913.

It will be Governor Locke Craig after tomorrow.

The middleman doesn't like to be the centre of attraction.

Witness Baker seems to have confirmed Lawyer Untermyer's suspicions.

A primary election that is not safeguarded by law is worse than no primary.

A party leader is a boss if he doesn't let you or anybody else but him manage politics.

Many people who are willing to take the consequences are not satisfied if the consequences are bad.

The Boys' Corn Clubs are proving that knowledge is first aid to farming Knowing how to secure results increase production.

It is announced that Mary Garden has "taken off 20 pounds" by discontinuing the use of wines. She has at last taken off about all that she can spare except atmosphere.

Our truckers are shipping lettuce, celery and early truck, and getting good money for all they produce. The best agricultural country in the world is the one which produces crops that bring the cash every month in the year.

Eastern North Carolina can raise two crops of broom corn each season, but it does not produce any. We ought to produce broom corn and manufacture it into brooms, whisks, brushes and mats, and do it right here in Wilmington.

"Wilson just listens and says nothing," so the New York World remarks in referring to his conference with Democratic leaders. That makes it hard on politicians who can't even get a ray of hope out of the Governor's immobile face.

Agriculture will get its biggest boost when farmers are enabled to borrow money without paying too much for it in interest, fees, etc. The proper kind of land security will cause millions of dollars to come forth and develop the waste places in the South.

The steel towers along the electric transmission lines of the power companies seem to appeal to the curiosity of young men who are tempted to climb them for a look over the country. Several tragedies have been the result and it is time that warning be given of the danger in communities to which the towers are new.

Col. Roosevelt thinks he has put the Republican party out of business, and that the only thing it can do is to go out of business as a party. However, Republicans who are opposed to a Third Term for American Presidents would not join the Progressive party which already has a candidate for President in 1916—the same old candidate.

North Carolina tobacco growers made money last season, but the Wilson Times warns farmers not to increase tobacco acreage this year. In urging about the same acreage as last year, The Times says: "Remember, the high prices of this year is due to the fact that the farmers are controlling supply and demand." A very important feature of modern farming is to guard against over-production and ruinous prices for any one crop. Our farmers are learning that diversification of crops brings them more prosperity than can be depended on when all their eggs are in one basket.

THE GREAT CORN EXPOSITION

Columbia ought to have visitors from every Southern State from January 27th to February 8th, the dates set for the fifth National Corn Exposition. The Star used its best endeavors to aid Columbia in securing that great exposition, and the capital city of South Carolina was indeed fortunate in having been selected for an event of such Nationwide interest and one of special advantage to the entire South. Columbia has made elaborate preparations for the exposition. Many special buildings had to be erected to take care of such a mammoth affair, but Columbia was equal to the occasion and will have ample space for exhibits and demonstrations on the part of every State in the Union.

The corn exposition is fundamentally educational, and it will be a tremendous object lesson for the South at this time in view of the efforts to make the South one of the greatest corn belts of the Nation. The South is the natural home of corn, said the late Dr. Knapp, and the government's farm demonstration work, now supplemented by the Nation's great corn show, will afford the completest emphasis of the neglected agricultural potentialities of the Southern States. That the exposition comes from the great corn States of the West to South Carolina is remarkable in itself, but it has come primarily because the South is emphasizing her corn-growing adaptibilities in such a marvelous way. It is significant that the big show has come to a State which holds the world's record for corn production per acre, and that it is to be held close to North Carolina which vies with her sister State in average production per acre, as has been demonstrated by yields of 100 to 188 bushels per acre by North Carolina boys during the past season.

The exposition comes to Columbia because of the enthusiasm and enterprise shown by South Carolinians in guaranteeing the expense of the exposition and providing space and special buildings for housing it. The chief building is a gigantic steel structure just erected for the purpose, covering 67,000 feet of floor space. That is all the intimation that need be given that the exposition is to be a huge affair and that it ought to attract large attendance from people of all Southern States, and especially from North Carolina.

The exposition is planned and conducted on a unique educational basis and is devoted entirely to the betterment of agriculture and the enrichment of rural life. It is the one great object lesson of agricultural progress and development throughout the Nation, and the broadness of its scope is shown by the fact that it takes in the South as well as all other portions of the Union. It will be a great stimulus to general agriculture and especially to the production of corn, its broad view extending from work done by the Federal Department of Agriculture to achievements by individuals in many States during the preceding year.

Outside of the exhibit feature, the problems of the farmer and of rural life will be emphasized and handled with ability by men versed in the subject to which so much attention is now being paid. Among the educational features will be addresses by eminent lecturers, authorities and experts from all parts of the country. It is to be hoped North Carolina will lead all Southern States in exhibits and attendance. Under special authorization of Congress, the Federal Department of Agriculture will install at Columbia the largest and most comprehensive exhibit ever made under government auspices. Twenty-seven States have pledged exhibits featuring the splendid results of the experimental and research work of their agricultural institutions. North Carolina will be heard from along that line, and she will have prize winners there among 800 boy students of agriculture, representing the corn prize winners and record makers in their respective States. The boys will be entertained on the exposition grounds, and there will be no more interested attendants than they.

Special railroad rates will be given to all who wish to visit Columbia and see the exposition.

PORT AND MILL COMPETITION FOR COTTON

We are hearing from the ambitious piedmont towns on the interurban trolley lines of the Dukes. The electric lines have greatly increased the distributing facilities of the mercantile and manufacturing centers, and while that is true it will be the livest of these towns that will get the most out of their advantages. In speaking of the opportunity of its town, on account of the interurban system, the Belton (S. C.) News says:

"The means of transportation in and out of Belton have created a necessity for Belton merchants. It means that trade will either come to Belton or go away from Belton. It ought to come to Belton for it is the central point and has the advantage of all other points on the interurban. The question is this. Will Belton merchants grasp the opportunity and offer the inducements to the trading public? The benefits derived from a good cotton market cannot be overestimated. In other words, the people are going to sell their cotton where it will bring the most money. That's common sense. Now, the market might be for an instance, 13 cents at Wilmington or Savannah. The local buyer can sell by telegraph, but he is going to make as many points as he can. The mills are going to buy as cheaply as they can. All of that is common sense. Now why shouldn't Belton merchants get together and put a man on the streets and pay him to buy the cotton off the streets and pay the same price they can get at Wilmington or Savannah, less the freight, and thus give the farmers the benefit of the local buyers' commission and thereby draw the trade to Belton? Why is cotton higher at A. than at B? It is sold at the same places and largely to the same people. The answer is the cotton buyer is going to make as much as he can and the mills are going to get it as cheap as they can. Think about it. It means much to Belton, for where they sell they will trade. And above all else, Mr. Merchant, advertise."

The port markets for cotton are not in competition with the interior markets. The ports purchase cotton for export, and it makes no difference whether they get it at Belton or any other town so long as they have railroad advantages. Some towns have better shipping facilities than others. It is the cotton buyer in the interior towns who ship to the ports or to the mills, but with few exceptions in the mill country the growers sell at home.

Belton happens to be in the great cotton manufacturing belt of the piedmont and it should be noted that it is the sports that have competition in that particular quarter of the cotton belt. Exporters have to compete with mills in the purchase of cotton. That makes it all the better for the farmers. The cotton mills give them a home market for their cotton, and if the exporters get it they have to outbid the mills. This emphasizes the benefit derived from the manufacture of raw materials where the material is produced. With the cotton mills creating the necessity for a system of terurban trolley lines, we can begin to see some of the larger benefits derived from making the South a manufacturing country.

In the diversity of its agriculture and manufacturing, the South is particularly fortunate. The South is constantly demonstrating that as the producer of raw material the place to manufacture it is at the place of production. If the South were to apply that rule to cotton and other products, this would be the greatest manufacturing country in the world. The South is doing that on an increasing scale, hence the opportunities in the South are such as no other country can offer.

ARE ALL GOVERNORS LEADERS?

Recently Governor Sulzer, the able Democratic executive of New York, claimed that by reason of his being elected by the Democracy it makes him the leader of the party in his State. President-elect Wilson rather assented to that view, if not really endorsed it. In fact, he furnished a concrete example of it himself as Governor of New Jersey. He became both Governor of his State and leader of his party in New Jersey. However, he did not become leader by virtue of the Governorship, but he became leader because he took the lead and led. It was quite possible for him to have been Governor and failed to be leader, but he succeeded at both. We rather think it is owing to who is Governor whether he is a leader or not.

The Hon. William J. Bryan also is committed to the idea that the Governorship makes Sulzer the leader of his party in the Empire State. For instance, in the Commoner of January 10th, the Nebraska statesman prints the following in large type on the first page of his paper, and at the top of the page across three columns: "New York's Great Democratic Leader—William Sulzer, Governor of New York, replying to an inquiry as to the part self-elected 'leaders' might take in the administration of State affairs, said: 'I am the Democratic leader of the State; the people decreed it at the polls, and I stand on their verdict. I can't succeed in doing what I want to do as Governor unless I am the Democratic leader. If any Democrat in the State challenges that leadership let him come out in the open and the people will decide'."

The New York World reminds Governor Sulzer, and incidentally Messrs. Wilson and Bryan, that "a Governor is a party leader only when he leads." We might say, when he leads like Governor Wilson led. Some Governors might try to lead and yet fail to be leaders. Certainly they are not leaders because they happen to be governors. Nevertheless, they are in a position to become leaders if the elements of leadership are in them. We have seen some good governors who would make mighty poor leaders.

The politics of this country during the past few years has been unfavorable to the political boss. A leader and a boss differ in respect to the methods they pursue. A Governor may be a leader as well, but a leader becomes a dictator when he tries to force his will on the party, contrary to the popular attitude. So long as he is wise and safe and the people are with him he is their leader. If he assumes the role of dictator he is merely another kind of boss, a good one, a bad one, or an indifferent one, as the case may be. Leaders are born and not made by being Governor.

In order to succeed in leadership one leader has to whip out all the other leaders. Our old friend, Senator Jim Smith, of New Jersey, can tell us how that is. He competed for leadership in his State but he found the door closed to competition.

Big Business, it is claimed, reduces operating expenses and tends to method and efficiency. Nevertheless, some of the big industrial combinations in this country put an immense tax on the resources of the people. Investigation of the National Typewriter Company reveals the fact that President Patterson receives a salary of $114,000 a year. The economic system of the country is bound to undergo a severe strain when such salaries are paid, while millions have to come out of the people to pay dividends on the billions of watered stock in the large corporations.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mooresville Enterprise remarks that an Iredell county farmer has made an engagement in Charlotte for all the butter he makes and will send it here by the parcels post. This is vastly better than buying butter from distant States, but where have Mecklenburg farmers made engagements to dispose of their products?—Charlotte Chronicle.

The merchants of Rock Hill are manifesting a determination to go after order trade, and it is showing commendable enterprise. The merchants of this city should be able to meet and vanquish outside competition in their own territory, and there is no reason why they should allow the big mail orders concerns or the department stores in the large cities of the country to get much business in this territory. These concerns are bound to get some business as a matter of fact, but Rock Hill merchants should see to it that they get but little.—Rock Hill Herald.

The Duplin Enterprise announces that "in the future this paper will charge for all notices of oyster suppers, box parties, festivals and for all other notices whereby there is any financial benefit. Space in a newspaper is its stock in trade and we propose to charge for it." We are glad to see that the Enterprise has recognized this fact and has decided to join the lists of those papers which are already charging for such notices. It costs such a great sum of money to operate a newspaper that editors and managers are forced to put a valuation upon their space that will bring sufficient revenue for them to make ends meet. If they did not do it they would ultimately be forced to suspend publication. The day of free advertising is rapidly passing.—Greensboro News.

Wilmington, N. C., January 13th, 1913.

Editor, The Morning Star, Wilmington, N. C.

Sir:—Having been a frequent visitor to your city for several years previous to 1910 and having made many acquaintances among the people of Wilmington, I naturally became interested in its progress.

After being absent from your city for nearly three years, I was surprised and, indeed, gratified to note the many improvements and rapid growth in such a short time. The paving of your streets is a remarkable improvement and a number of modern buildings in the business section proves that the people of Wilmington are not content to trail behind other cities of its class throughout the United States. In all my travels I have visited no city that shows the remarkable growth and increased public spirit noticeable in the city of the Lower Cape Fear.

Among the many factors that have aided in your city's rapid advancement, it seems evident that your local morning newspaper, "The Morning Star," deserves special mention. That paper with its clean style of boosting is a credit to your city and shows enterprise that would be welcomed in any live city in the country. When I return to my home city, by the same name, in Delaware, I can assure the people there that there is at least one more real Wilmington on the map of the United States.

KILLED BY HIS BROTHER

Frank Brantley Accidentally Shot by James, Near Washington, N. C.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, N. C., January 13.—News reached this city this morning of the accidental killing of Mr. Frank Brantley, by his brother, late Saturday afternoon near Royall, this county. It seems that Frank and James Brantley had been hunting, and when they returned home Frank set his gun on the porch and went in the house. When he came out his brother James picked up the gun, thinking it was not loaded and remarked to his brother: "I'll show you how to kill black birds." In some way the gun was discharged, the whole load entering the breast of Frank Brantley, killing him almost instantly. Physicians were immediately summoned, but the unfortunate man was beyond medical aid. Frank was about 19 years of age and James 17. Both the boys are well thought of and the unfortunate accident is greatly deplored.

RHEUMATISM

URIC ACID CAUSES IT—S.S.S. CURES IT

Every variety of Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood; the different forms of the disease depending on whether this uric acid settles in the nerves, muscles or joints. In Sciatica it is the nerves which are attacked, the muscular form shows the muscles to be the seat of trouble, while manifestations of articular Rheumatism are evidence that the joints are being diseased. To cure Rheumatism the uric acid must be removed from the blood; the circulation must be made pure. This cannot be accomplished with external applications; such treatment may furnish temporary relief from the pain, but it does not reach the producing cause. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism of every variety and form because it purifies the blood. It goes down into the circulation, neutralizes the acids and dissolves the irritating deposits which are pressing on the sensitive nerves and tissues, and producing pain. Whether your case of Rheumatism be acute or chronic S. S. S. is the medicine you need; it will cure you and at the same time build up the entire system by its fine vegetable tonic effects. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

CUTTER BACK FROM LOOKOUT

Seminole Returns From Successful Cruise—Floated British Steamer Alcazar, Aground at Lookout—Difficult Task

One hundred and forty-one hours of hard work at all stages of high tide and in all manner of rough weather, on the British steamer Alcazar, aground at Lookout, was rewarded with success Friday morning of the past week at 8:10 o'clock, when the revenue cutter Seminole, Capt. Carden in command, pulled the big tramp out of her dangerous berth in the sand into deep water. The Seminole returned to her station here early yesterday morning, all hands tired and worn out with their long but victorious battle with winds and tide.

It will be remembered that the Seminole was called to Lookout on January 2nd, to aid the steamer Alcazar, which had been blown up on the beach during a gale and left there broadside to the wind. The vessel had previously been picked up at sea by two Merchants' and Miners' Line steamers and towed into Lookout, where it was thought to be safe from all harm. But hard luck still pursued the ill-fated vessel and it was only a few days till the cutter received the call for assistance above referred to.

On reaching Lookout, where the Alcazar was aground the Seminole got right down to her task, which was shortly found to be no little one. The Alcazar had been blown hard aground in very shallow water, her position being a very difficult one to approach. Plats were made showing how she lay and soundings were taken to ascertain the depth of the water. The Seminole worked hard trying to free the vessel and it seemed as if very little was being accomplished. However, she kept pulling on the Alcazar day after day, night after night, and tide after tide, until with a favorable tide early Friday morning when the steamer was floated.

Capt. Carden, of the Seminole, says the work of freeing the Alcazar was one of the most trying and prolonged jobs he has tackled since his connection with the Revenue Cutter Service. Some idea of magnitude can be gained from the report, current in marine circles that wreckers wanted at least $50,000 before undertaking the task. Right at this time, too, one of the severest storms of the Winter was raging on the coast, making the work on the Alcazar especially difficult.

Soon after the steamer was floated, another gale came up and the vessel had to put to sea to keep from being driven ashore a second time. When the Alcazar was near Diamond Shoals lightship, she sent out another call for aid, but the stories sent out in regard to that seem to have been greatly exaggerated, as the Alcazar made the Virginia capes without assistance.

The Seminole had run short of coal and was at Beaufort replenishing her bunkers when the last call for help came from the Alcazar. Capt. Carden rushed the work of coaling so as to go to the steamer's assistance again, but soon learned that she had passed into Hampton Roads.

The cutter is now in port taking on coal.

RIVER IMPROVEMENTS.

Bids Opened in Local Engineer Office Here Saturday.

Of the bids received and opened Saturday at noon, for the dredging of the Pamlico and Tar rivers, between Pamlico Sound and Washington, and between Washington and Greenville, Major H. W. Stickle, of the Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., has recommended that the bid of W. H. French, of Norfolk, Va., for work on the Tar; and the bid of the Norfolk Dredging Company, on the Pamlico, be accepted. The bid of W. H. French was 13.7 cents per cubic yard, the total work above Washington being $26,750; and the bid of the Norfolk Dredging Company being 11.9 cents per cubic yard, for the work below Washington, the total of this being $46,894. Had it not been for the stipulation of the Maryland Dredging & Contracting Co., that it should do all the work or none, its bid of 12 34- cents for the work below and above Washington would have been recommended.

Other bids were Pickard Dredging Co., Philadelphia, 12 1-2 cents below Washington; 20 cents above; Hillsboro Dredging Co., Tampa, Fla., 13.2 cents below, 22 cents above; R. & H. Improvement Co., Philadelphia, 17.4 cents below; Standard Engineering Co., New York, 16 3-8 cents below; Atlantic Gulf & Pacific Co., New York, 15.4 cents below.

The quantities of material to be moved are estimated at 392,000 cubic yards below Washington, and 194,000 cubic yards above Washington, between Washington and Greenville.

Major Stickle has also recommended that the bid of L. J. Merriman of this city, be accepted for the furnishing and delivering of the piling at lock and dam No. 1, King's Bluff, 39 miles above Wilmington, on the Cape Fear. The bid was 10 cents flat, on 125, 25-foot piling; 2,050, 30-foot piling; and 175, 35-foot piling.

RUNAWAY BOYS CAUGHT.

Youngsters Who Took Horse and Buggy Arrested at Fremont.

Hiram Hart, aged 11, and Albert Parker and Louis Finberg, aged about eight years each, who secured a horse and buggy from the Orrell Livery Company Friday and drove away to explore, apparently, the inland country, were apprehended at Fremont, over 100 miles from Wilmington, yesterday; and this morning Constable J. H. Davis will leave for that place to bring them back.

It seems that the boy Hart hired the rig, stating on the 'phone that his employer, Mr. W. E. Etheridge, desired it, and as such orders were not unusual, nothing was suspected, and the team was made ready. The boys supplied themselves with cigarettes to the amount of $1.25 and departed on a trip that was "some" journey for three children. The officer who leaves this morning for Fremont is expected back this evening with his youthful charges. The horse and buggy will be shipped to Wilmington.

TELLS OF STOLEN LETTERS

Negro Clerk Throws Some Light on Archbold Correspondence

Washington, January 13.—A story of how copies of letters from John D. Archbold, to former Senator Foraker and other public men were taken from the Standard Oil Company's office at 26 Broadway, New York, by W. W. Winkfield and Charles Stump, negro messengers employed by the company, was told to the Senate campaign funds investigating committee today by Gilchrist Stewart, a negro law clerk. Stewart said he was employed by Mr. Foraker to investigate whether certain alleged photographic copies of letters published were forgeries. Winkfield was found in Chicago, Stewart said, and told him a story of how he and Stump took copies of letters from the Standard Oil files and disposed of them to a representative of the New York American.

While in Chicago on December 21st, Stewart declared he was kidnapped by "gangsters," taken to the office of the Chicago Examiner and robbed of a number of letters and papers, including two letters to him from former Senator Foraker.

The men who kidnapped him, he said, told him they were policemen, exhibited what purported to be warrants and attempted to make him believe the examiner's office was a police station.

THE RECORDER'S COURT

Number of Offenders Tried at Yesterday's Session

Disorderlies, vagrants and victims of the oil of joy predominated in the Recorder's court yesterday morning. Arthur Cole, vagrancy, was nol prossed with leave. Golden Murray received 30 days for idleness. Viola and Bessie Tyson, colored, were taxed $10 and one-half of the costs each in a case charging assault and battery on Emma Burrus. Leroy Lane, colored, shooting in the city limits, was fined $5 and costs when he plead guilty. Alice Vereen and Becky Davis, disorderly conduct, were fined $5 and costs. Several were fined for imbibing too freely Sunday.

This morning Jim Williams and George Loftin, colored, charged with the larceny of $6 from the store of Mr. M. G. Gurganus, corner 11th and Campbell streets, will be tried. It is alleged that they entered the store from the rear and stole the cash drawer. The proprietor heard a noise and turned in time to see a white dog running from the store. Patrolman Powell was called and in a short time had located the dog and arrested Williams, and later Loftin was arrested.

The case against D. E. Bass, white, who is charged with retailing, on the allegation of Claude Herring, colored, was continued until tomorrow.

AN OBJECT LESSON

What One Enterprising Citizen Is Doing In the Celery Line

By way of Mr. E. N. Clark, Agricultural and Immigration Agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, The Star yesterday received some particularly fine celery, grown by Engineer J. E. Huey, of the A. C. L., who last year purchased property in Winter Park Gardens and began his first effort at trucking. The celery possesses unusually fine flavor and bears out the contention that the soil at Winter Park Gardens is well adapted to the crop. In fact, an analysis of the soil in the celery section of Florida, compared with an analysis of the soil at Winter Park, shows that the two are identical with the exception that the local soil has more humus and needs less fertilizer. Mr. Huey is selling his celery rapidly and is getting good prices. What he is doing can be done by others, and it would seem that there is no reason why many hundreds of dollars should be spent in outside territory for celery when we have here every natural resource for growing the finest quality of this highly prized plant.

Committee Will Meet.

A meeting was called yesterday by the chairman of the postoffice, telephone and telegraph committee to be held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday at noon. Mr. H. deW. Rapalje is chairman of the committee and the other members are Messrs. M. W. Divine, Thos. E. Wallace, and Geo. R. French. At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last week the committee was instructed to file formal complaint with the State Corporation Commission against the service given by the Bell Telephone Company and it is presumed that the meeting Thursday is for the purpose of making up the case to send to the Corporation Commission.

RECEIVE AUDITOR'S REPORT

County Commissioners Yesterday Afternoon Heard the Various Recommendations as to Conduct of County Affairs.

The report of the special auditor, employed to audit the books and accounts of the county, including every department of the county government, was read at the meeting of the County Commissioners yesterday afternoon and action taken on the several recommendations. The report was submitted to the board a week ago, but action was deferred until yesterday. Mr. Albert H. Marsh, an expert auditor, made the audit and he did his work in a very thorough manner.

The report covers general county transactions. The auditor did not examine the acounts of the Board of Education, except the treasurer's account, which was done in order to verify his receipts from the various county offices and to see that his disbursements were properly substantiated, says the report.

Under the head of "Sheriff's Office" the auditor reported as follows:

"The books and records of this office are kept in a neat and business like manner. I have carefully checked all receipts and amounts paid to State and County Treasurers and find same in order. You can see from statements attached (Exhibit 'I') that taxes are well collected.

"I recommend that instead of your present stub record for tax receipts that you make receipts in duplicate, retaining carbon copy for record, and that these receipts be numbered consecutively throughout the year, the original and duplicate to bear the same number. This method will make your record more complete and will save an appreciable amount of time, especially during the heavy season."

Upon motion of Commissioner Metts the recommendation as to the Sheriff's office was adopted.

Treasurer's Office.

The report as to the county treasurer was as follows: "Examination of the books and accounts of this office, including checking of treasurer's statements by vouchers and warrants, show the work to have been carefully and neatly done. All moneys received have been accounted for and distributed to the respective funds.

"This office is not on a salary basis. The law states that the maximum commission your treasurer can receive is one-half (1-2) per cent. on receipts and two and a half (2 1-2) per cent. on disbursements, General County Funds, the exact commission to be fixed by your board. I cannot find where your Board has ever fixed the amount of commission he should receive but for many years (and during this period under review) he has received one and a quarter per cent. on receipts and one and a quarter per cent. on disbursements. He receives from the school fund two per cent. on disbursements and nothing on receipts. During the last four years his compensation has been as follows:

"Year ended November 30, 1909, $2,527.62, general; $952.87, school; total $3,480.49.

Year ended November 30, 1910, $2,005.30, general; $1,410.49, school; total $3,415.79.

Year ended November 30, 1911, $2,806.59, general; $1,524.23, school; total $4,330.82.

"Year ended November 30, 1912, $2,361.21, general; $1,563.68, school; total $3,924.89.

"I recommend that you use a columnar cash book as being an improvement over the old style now in use. I will prepare proper form for your treasurer."

Commissioner McGirt said that according to the report the basis of fixing the compensation for the county treasurer was contrary to law. Commissioner Metts said that he had been informed that the amount actually received by the treasurer is practically the same as the amount he would have received had the letter of the law been followed and he had have received the maximum amount allowed. The treasurer would have received just a little more than he did receive had the law been followed. Commissioner McGirt made the point that granting that this was so it did not change the law, to which Commissioner Metts assented. Commissioner McGirt said he thought the matter worth investigating and he moved that the county attorney make an investigation of how the treasurer came to receive the commissions as were given him. County Attorney John D. Bellamy, Jr., said that had the treasurer received on the basis of 1 1-4 per cent. for receipts and the same for disbursements more than he would have received had the law been followed, then he thought the treasurer would have been liable to the county for the difference, but such did not appear to be the case. Mr. Bellamy said if the board desired he would institute a suit to determine the question, but if his opinion was asked for now he would like to have more time in which to look up the authorities on the question. Commissioner McGirt said that he would like the adoption of his motion that the matter be referred to the county attorney. No one seemed to be in a hurry about seconding the motion and finally the chairman remarked that he supposed he would have that right, whereupon he seconded the motion. Then both Commissioners Metts and Yopp said that they would like to second the motion. The motion was put to a vote and carried.

CONSOLIDATE DEPARTMENTS

Sense of Board of Health That Both City and County Work Can be Done Through One Organization.

The question of the consolidation of the county and city health departments was discussed at length last night by the County Board of Health, composed of Chairman M. S. Willard, of the Board of County Commissioners; Mayor Joseph D. Smith, Prof. Washington Catlett, superintendent of education, and Drs. R. Harllee Bellamy and E. J. Wood. It was the opinion of the board that consolidation would be a good thing, but definite action was deferred, the chairman being instructed to write the State Board of Health informing it as to the purposes of the board, and to address Dr. W. D. MacMillan, county superintendent of health, advising him that the board would request his continuation in office until the Legislature acted on the question of consolidation, the chairman to state also that the board would be called in special session to further consider the subject of consolidation, when the situation was better in hand.

It was stated that the county attorneys were working on a special act to be submitted to the Legislature, and upon the working out of the plan, the board would wait before another meeting was held. The question was taken up in its various phases and discussed from several viewpoints. There was the question of expense, which was decided by the statement that the board would have to establish a budget and keep within its limits, save in the case of emergency. The board, in case of consolidation, would remain as now constituted, and it was the opinion of the board that the division of expense would be one-fifth for the county at large and four-fifths for the city.

The question of who should be the head of the proposed combined health department came up, and while nothing was said bearing directly on that point, it was stated that there was no disposition to oust Dr. MacMillan; that in case there was effected a consolidation, the board would likely want Dr. MacMillan to be county physician, doing practically the same work he is doing now, which he has carried on most excellently for a number of years.

It was again pointed out, in the consideration of this subject of combining the two departments, that the situation in New Hanover is peculiar, and that there is really no necessity for two health departments, in view of the fact that the city of Wilmington comprises more than three-fourths of the county, not in area, but in population and taxable values.

It is believed that the County Board of Health will vote for a consolidation and that the representatives in the Legislature will introduce a bill providing for this. There was no opposition whatever manifested at the meeting last night, Dr. E. J. Wood, who has been a member of the board for a number of years, first suggested the consolidation idea two years ago and it has been growing in popular favor ever since. He brought up the matter again a few weeks ago and in Chairman Willard, of the Board of County Commissioners, he found another champion of the proposition. Inquiry on Dr. Wood's part developed the fact that the entire board and many others as well were heartily in favor of the plan. The only question that now remains, it appears, is a question of details and it is believed that these will be worked out to the satisfaction of both representatives of the city and the county within the next few days.

The report of Dr. W. D. MacMillan, the county superintendent of health, for the past year was submitted, as follows:

"To the County Board of Health, City.

"Gentlemen: During the year 1912, we have quarantined and fumigated twenty-nine (29) houses for contagious diseases; inspected and fumigated all the public school buildings, including those in the city (30 buildings), and vaccinated one hundred and two (102) school children.

"The depositing of dead animals on the surface has been stopped, not only in the city suburbs, but the entire county. This is due to the efficient work of your health officers, appointed at your last meeting. The suburban villages are inspected monthly and the sanitary conditions very much improved. Several nuisances have been abated and a systematic disposal of night soil introduced in each settlement. The company at Delgado looks after the removal and burying of night soil and responds readily to any suggestions from the health department. Delgado is as clean and sanitarily kept as any part of the city. In Carolina Place there are fourteen (14) disposal plants, three sewer connections and six surface closets. Carolina Heights has sewer service, Winter Park has only four disposal plants, Sea Gate none. Along the Wrightsville sound front and on Bradley's creek many private sewers empty into the sound or creek below low water mark. All the closets in the county, except in Delgado, are cleaned by the owners and the contents buried or covered in their compost heaps. There are four disposal plants in East Wilmington.

"The sanitary condition of Wrightsville Beach was better last season than ever before. This was due greatly to the weekly inspections of the county health officers. Heretofore the daily inspections by the company's officer, who was not directly responsible to the County Health Department, was a mere form and amounted only to a police. With two exceptions, the ordinance relative to sewers on the beach have been complied with and circumstances made it necessary that the change in these two be put off until after the close of the season. This ordinance and the vaccination of the entire county are the only compliances of the important ordinance of your board.

"Macomber's Ditch ordered cleaned, had no attention. The inspection and condemnation of all slaughter houses in the county and the order for a central abattoir by January 1st, 1910, was ignored. Muzzling of dogs was laughed at. And the burying of the city's dead animals in the suburbs continues. Why is this? Are our laws defective, our legal advisers indifferent or our commissioners weak-kneed? It seems that the acts of the Board of Health have amounted to only appeals as from an advisory body and not a law-making board backed by our General Assembly.

"I would most respectfully ask that the records of the proceedings of your board be kept in a separate book, and not as now among the proceedings of the County Commissioners. It would be an easy matter then to keep up with your acts, while it is now a long hunt to find them sandwiched among the commissioners.

"Thanking the board for its past considerate and courteous treatment, I remain,

Respectfully,
"W. D. MacMILLAN,
"Superintendent."

WILL OPEN BIDS TODAY

Several Proposals for Extending the Municipal Sewerage System

Bids will be opened at 10 o'clock this morning by the City Council for constructing the addition to the municipal sewerage system in the northern, eastern and southern sections of the city. The additional sewers will cost upwards of $100,000, it is estimated. It is believed that a number of bids will be submitted, as many inquiries have been received from different contracting firms throughout the country. Several contractors have been here for the past week looking over in person the districts that are to be sewered and making up their bids. The contract will not be awarded today, as the proposals will be referred to the city engineer to be tabulated and reported at regular meeting of Council tomorrow morning when the matter of giving out the contract will be taken.

WEDDING THIS EVENING OF MUCH SOCIAL INTEREST.

The wedding at St. James' Episcopal church at 5:30 o'clock this evening of Miss Helen Iredell Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Williams, of this city, and Mr. Allen Jones, Jr., of Columbia, S. C., is an event of much social interest in Wilmington and other places where the young couple are known. The Columbia State of Sunday contained the following that will be of interest:

"Quite a party of Columbians left yesterday afternoon for Wilmington, N. C., to attend the wedding on Tuesday afternoon of Miss Helen Iredell Williams, of that city, to Allen Jones, Jr., of Columbia. In the party were the bridegroom, his sisters, Mrs. George R. Rembert and Mrs. Joseph M. Bell; his brothers, Cadwallader and Robin Jones, who will be best man and groomsman, respectively; his cousin, Miss Marguerite Jones, of Greensboro, Ala.; Walter Bradley and John S. Reynolds, who will be two of the ushers.

"The wedding will take place at St. James' Episcopal church at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday, the bride being attended by her two sisters as maid and dame of honor, respectively. Besides the Columbia men mentioned the other ushers will be Richard Meares, Frank Williams, the bride's brother, and Hugh Calder, all of Wilmington.

"The ceremony will be followed by a reception for relatives and a few friends at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur Williams, South Fourth street.

"After their wedding trip Mr. Jones will bring his bride to Columbia, where she will be welcomed by the friends she has already won here for herself and by the wide connection of friends and kinsfolk of the family."

A number of pre-nuptial events have been given in honor of the bride and members of the bridal party. One of the most charming of these was given at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Miss Jane Meares at the home of her parents, Capt. and Mrs. Thos. D. Meares, No. 408 Market street, when she entertained at a handkerchief shower in honor of the bride. There were present young ladies of the bridal party and a number of other friends of the bride.

FORMER WILMINGTONIAN CLAIMS DURHAM BRIDE.

Mr. L. Mac Johnson, formerly of this city, now of Littleton, N. C., accompanied by his bride, nee Miss Louise Hackney, one of the most attractive young women of Durham, will arrive in the city this morning returning from their bridal tour North and for several days will be guests of the groom's sister, Mrs. F. A. Fetter, at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Fetter, in Carolina Heights. Both will be most cordially received by a host of friends here, Mr. Johnson having formerly resided in Wilmington where he was held in the highest esteem by all in the circle of his acquaintance.

The wedding of Miss Hackney and Mr. Johnson was solemnized on last Thursday evening in St. Philip's Episcopal church and was one of the leading social events of the season in Durham. The church was thronged with friends and admirers of the young people, a programme of select music having been rendered by Mrs. Manning as the guests assembled, this being concluded with "All for You", as beautifully sung by Mrs. Yearby. The ceremony was by Rev. S. S. Bost, the rector, and the attendants, Messrs. M. E. Newsom and Sneed Sasser, ushers, entered first, while the bridesmaids, Misses Mary Louise Manning and Willie Cox, came next after the ushers; then the groomsmen, Messrs. James Manning and Mallory Hackney; then Misses Elizabeth Howard, of Tarboro; Reba Johnson, of Littleton; and Messrs. Eugene Johnson, of Littleton, and Hal Hayes, of this city.

The bridesmaids wore pink charmeuse with silver trimmings. Then came the two dames of honor, Mrs. Fred Fetter, of Wilmington, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Charles Markham, sister of the bride, both wearing exquisite gowns of white charmeuse with crystal trimmings and carrying white brides roses. Miss Ruth Nicholson, of Littleton, the maid of honor, came next. She was exceedingly handsome in a green charmeuse, veiled in pink and carried an arm bouquet of sweet peas. The bride entered on the arm of her brother-in-law, M. Charles Markham, and was met at the altar by the groom, and his best man, Mr. Fred Fetter. In her bridal gown of white charmeuse and duchess lace the bride was a dream of rare loveliness. Her veil was arranged most becomingly and her bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley made a complete costume for the very lovely bride, who is a beautiful brunette and of especial charm and manner.

Immediately after the bridal party left for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Markham, where an elegant course supper was served from 6:30 to 10 o'clock. The home was artistically decorated in the bridal colors of white and green, the whole lower floor being thrown open, and a profusion of white roses, lilies and palms, making the entire effect most charming.

After spending a few days in Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will go to their home in Littleton, carrying with them the best wishes of a host of friends throughout the State.

GIVEN CAPACITY HOUSE

Fourth of Number of St. Andrew's Lyceum Course Last Night

A capacity house was present last evening to enjoy the fourth number provided by the Brotherhood of St Andrew's church in Memorial Hall, in the person of Mr. Sydney Landon, the noted impersonator and entertainer, whose readings from Poe—Edgar W. ("Bill") Nye—Jas. Whitcomb Riley—Henry W. Longfellow and "Mark Twain," were among the best ever heard in this city. So familiar have we become with the pictures of these celebrated personages that it was almost as if the original had been suddenly transplanted to the platform, so natural did they become in his more than expert hands. Where all were so good that mention of any one number would be superfluous, it may be safely said that it was the most delightful crowding into the short space of one hour and fifteen minutes of the most satisfying, refined and elevating evening of the whole course thus far provided and many were the regrets when his final "Good Night" was said.

PRESIDENT PEYSER HERE.

Head of I. O. B. B. Delivers Most Interesting Address.

Sunday night Mr. Julius I. Peyser, grand president of the Independent Order of B'nai Brith, of Washington, D. C., visited Wilmington and delivered an interesting address at Temple Israel, on the subject of the order and its benevolence. The occasion was the more interesting because Sunday was the 70th anniversary of the order. There was a large attendance. President Peyser outlined the work of the order, showing the number of orphan asylums, homes for the aged and schools which have been established. He stated that in this country and Europe there were now 40,000 members of the order. Rabbi Abram Simon, who was expected to be present, was unable to attend.

Lecture on Robt. Burns

Lovers of the poetry of Robert Burns, whose writings appeal to men everywhere, will be pleased to know that there will be a lecture on the subject of "Scottish Literature and Robert Burns," on the evening of the 24th, by Mr. James P. Whyte, it being the 154th anniversary of the birth of Burns. Admission will be 50 cents and the proceeds will be applied to the funds for the improvement of the interior of the High School building. This lecture will be the first of a series to be delivered under the auspices of the High School Improvement Association. Mr. Whyte is a native of Scotland and it needn't be said that his lecture will be highly interesting. Mrs. Whyte will add to the occasion by singing several Scotch songs.

Altercation Yesterday

Yesterday Messrs. J. O. Brock, electrician on Market street, between Front and Second, and L. W. Warrock, also an electrician, engaged in an altercation in the former's place of business, over an old matter, it is said, that was supposed to have been settled. It is alleged that Mr. Brock struck Mr. Warrock in such a way as to break his glasses, whereupon Mr. Warrock used as a weapon the first thing he got his hands on, which proved to be a smoothing iron. The case will come before the Recorder this morning.

..Theatrical..

Altogether charming and as deliciously and femininely alluring as ever, "The Merry Widow," with Miss Mable Wilber in the title role, supported by Chas. Meakins as debonair Prince Danilo, was presented to a capacity house at the Academy of Music last evening, and though this is the third or fourth time the production has appeared here, its reception was none the less brilliant. Though some few playgoers were of the opinion that the show was not quite up to the standards of the productions of former years, the concensus of opinion was that "The Merry Widow" had lost none of the charm that has made the play probably the most popular light opera ever produced in this country, or elsewhere.

Miss Wilber is a most winsome actress and she handled her part to perfection. While her voice is one of the best heard on the local stage in several seasons, it was in her dancing that she was at her best. Carrying a figure that, to quote "Mr. Nish," is superb, which her beautiful gowns displayed to every advantage, her dancing was truly the poetry of motion, as well as passion.

Mr. Meakins carried off the part of the debonair prince with all the dash and vim that could be desired, and his voice blended most harmoniously with Miss Wilber's. Others who aided prominently in the successful rendition of the production were Arthur Wooley as Nish; Oscar Figman as Popoff; Olgar Roller as Natalie, his wife, and F. J. McCarthy as Nova Kovich. However, there was not a week member in the cast. The scenery was as beautiful as on former appearances and the costumes were also very beautiful. An excellent orchestra, conducted by Mr. Alfred Moulton, added to the success of the play.

Another Stupendous Offering.

With every minute of its two delightful acts as refreshing and colorful as a rose garden in June, "The Rose Maid", Werba and Luescher's most recent light opera success comes to the Academy of Music on Thursday night. More elaborate than its musical sister, "The Spring Maid" in its scenic equipment, "The Rose Maid" still retains all the daintiness and tunefulness of the former success and this latest offering is said to be the most elaborate scenically of any comic opera produced in recent years. At times it borders on the spectacular. This is especially true in the second act of the piece which pictures the exterior of a monster hotel in Ostend, Belgium's fashionable seashore resort. In this scene the astonished audience beholds the great entrance and lower flowers of the hostelry with the grand staircases, flanked on either side by gigantic pillars, running up to broad and gaily decorated verandas. In the rear can be discerned far reaching corridors, rich in furnishings, resembling the famous "Peacock Alley" of New York's fashionable Waldorf-Astoria.

In this scene all is life and beauty. Dining at the open air tables on the lawn before the hotel are dozens of beautiful women, richly gowned in latest Parisian importations. Presently —after the "Kute Kiddies", six of the darlingest little girlies ever seen on the stage, have appeared in "The Happy Family" song and three of the principal actors have performed the almost impossible feat of waltzing up and down the stairs of the hotel, the assembled guests, together with cavalrymen and women in gorgeous uniforms, take part in the showy Cavalry Tournament. This scene is a riot of color and action and forms a fitting climax to the extravagant pace set by the producers in staging their latest success. "The Rose Maid" will be presented here with all the equipment that caused it to be termed the opera of fun and fashion during its New York run.

Seats will go on sale at Plummer's at 1 P. M. today.

Black Patti Tonight.

The Black Patti Company in "Captain Jasper" which comes to the Academy of Music tonight, is one of the largest and oldest negro companies on the road today, being in its 17th successful season. The principals are conceded to be the pick of the colored performers in the country and together with the chorus give a pleasing performance.

Seats are now selling at Plummer's The prices for tonight are exceedingly low. Reserved seats are 50 and 75 cents, with admission to the gallery 25 cents. Only box seats are $1.

At the Bijou.

All was sunshine for enjoyment yesterday at the popular Bijou because the drear spirit of the weather never enters this big amusement palace. Today's show is going to be another one for size and pleasure that has no superior. It will be a rouser of rousers and will, no doubt, attract folks by the hundred.

A real Bunny film will be a star today in "Freckles". In this film fat, jolly John Bunny plays the star part. Bunny has freckles and wants to get rid of them. He secures the services of a beauty doctor—a real fascinator in skirts, and she calls while Bunny's wife is away. Then the wife returns and—well, its a scream.

The prettiest, most entrancing film, Essanay's "Twilight" is also a star today. It is a film of heart throbs and beautiful scenery. A powerful Pathe is also a topliner in "The Frame-Up". It is a thrilling story of the West, telling vividly how a half-breed tries to place the blame for cheating in a graphic card game upon a young cowboy, and the consequences.

Grand Theatre.

Every day at the Grand Theatre is a big day and it matters not how the weather may be on the outside it is always comfortable and cozy within the portals of this pretty little theatre. Today is going to be another great one for fine attractions and chief among the features will be the song by Mr. Karp, "Kentucky Days," an old and sweet melody that will carry one back to the days of his youth. Mr. Karp is winning high praise as a soloist and many enthusiastically declare that his equal has never been heard before in this city.

There will be four pictures again today and among the number is one great big comedy, "Mr. Pickwick's Predicament." It is taken from the Pickwick Papers and it is certain to be a scream from start to finish. Then some of the others are an Urban-Eclipse, "Three Rogues Outwitted" and "Picturesque Dalmatia". The latter will be especially interesting at this time on account of the Balkan war. Then there is a Vitagraph, "The Hat", a strong dramatic picture that will appeal to all. This features Miss Mary Charleston, one of the strongest moving picture artists, and she will be welcomed again by patrons of the Grand.

LOCAL DOTS.

—A negro known by the name of "Manzy," was taken to the hospital yesterday to be treated for what was supposed to be lead poisoning arising from a gunshot wound which he suffered many months ago.

Martin, the distinguished president of Davidson College. His text was, "The Master Sayeth Come," and it was a masterly effort, greatly enjoyed by the large number present.

—The scale of seats for "The Rose Maid" Thursday night's brilliant musical attraction at the Academy of Music, will commence at Plummer's this afternoon at 1 o'clock. The appearance of this attraction, numbering almost 100 people and with its own superb orchestra, will be one of the notable events of the present theatrical season.

—Mrs. J. H. Muse, mother of Mr. Frank Muse, of this city, is critically ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Thorbourn, in Durham, and her condition is such that there is little hope entertained for her recovery. Mr. Muse visited her Wednesday, returning to the city Saturday. Mrs. Muse is about 81 years of age. Her husband was once city editor of the Morning Star.

—At a meeting of the Foreign Mission Society of the Fifth Street Methodist church yesterday afternoon a splendid address was delivered by Mrs. W. M. Shaw on the subject of missions, and Mrs. D. W. Bullock, secretary of the district for foreign missions, announced that the report for the year showed that the societies had raised more money than in any one year in their history, having secured $102 more than ever before.

—The funeral of Mrs. Julia Farrow, wife of Mr. Asa Farrow, was held from the home in Masonboro township, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, by Rev. A. C. Chafin and interment was in the family burying ground. A number of relatives and friends attended. The pallbearers were Messrs. Walter Farrow, Robert Hollis, Elijah Hollis, Newton Stokley, Silas Craig and L. A. Rhodes.

—In response to the invitation of the City Council, issued Saturday by Capt. Thos. D. Meares, clerk, to the Chamber of Commerce to appoint a committee to meet with Council for the purpose of discussing proposed legislation and other matters of civic importance relating to the welfare and prosperity of the city, Secretary H. B. Branch, of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday sent a letter to Capt. Meares, stating that Mr. M. J. Corbett, president of the Chamber, had appointed a committee to meet with Council this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Mayor's office, City Hall, the committee being Col. Walker Taylor, Mr. H. C. McQueen, Mr. Wm. Gilchrist, Mr. J. A. Taylor and Mr. M. J. Corbett.

Household Economy

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take one pint of granulated sugar, add ½ pint of warm water and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect, and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COTTON WAS GENERALLY EASY WHEAT AND CORN ADVANCED STREET SUFFERS FROM BLUES

Most of the Active Months Made New Low Ground for the Movement —Close Was Steady 11 to 17 Points Lower

New York, Jan. 13.—The cotton market was generally easy and unsettled today, with most of the active months making new low records for the movement under continued liquidation or scattering pressure, which seemed to be inspired by increased arrivals here from the South and predictions that interior holders will soon begin to sell hedges against remaining old crop supplies, should the decline continue. The close was steady, but within a point or two of the lowest, with last prices showing a net decline of from 11 to 17 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 5 to 6 points and the more active positions sold 8 to 17 points net lower shortly after the opening in response to disappointing cables, rather aggressive local offerings and liquidation. A rally of 8 or 9 points followed on reports that preliminary returns showed a very light ginning for the first half of January, but the improvement brought out increased offerings for both accounts and prices broke again, reporting the lowest point of the day in the late trading. Below 12.30 for March and 12.35 for May quite an active demand was encountered which was said to include covering by shorts and fixing of prices on "call cotton" by spinners, while a considerable volume of buying by houses with Western connections helped the tone toward the close. Wall Street houses were very heavy sellers during the day and there was quite a good deal of selling here by houses with Southern connections which some thought to be against supplies in the interior. Arrivals of consigned cotton since January 1st have been 15,000 bales and so far 27,000 bales have been delivered on January contracts.

Spot, quiet. Middling uplands, 13.10; do. gulf, 13.35; sales, 2,600 bales.

The cotton market closed steady.

Quotations Fall In a Decisive Way on The Stock Exchange—Inroads Made In All Departments Of the List

New York, Jan. 13.—Quotations fell in a decisive way today on the stock exchange. In all departments of the list inroads were made on quoted values and there were frequent losses of 2 to 4 points. Sentiment was correspondingly bearish and the street apparently was suffering from the "blues"

Trading was more active and the uncertain tone of the early session was changed into weakness as the day wore on. Bear operators showed more confidence in their dealings and made a number of successful drives, with the coppers and coalers and steel as the especial objects of attack. Steel sold down to the lowest price since last May.

On the exchange and in customers' rooms of commission houses the topic most often discussed today was the speech of President-elect Wilson at Chicago on Saturday. His remarks upon the banking and credit system attracted wide attention and the street chose a bearish construction upon them. The weakness of the stock market was attributed to the influence upon the market sentiment.

The copper group was again a sore spot in the list. It was admitted that leading companies had cut under the long established rate of 17 3-4 cents. There was another sharp break in the metal market in London.

The bears hammered the copper stocks with considerable effect, Amalgamated being heaviest of the group. Coalers also betrayed weakness and among the specialties there was a large number of sharp declines. Telephone stocks were under usual pressure which were associated with rumors of governmental investigation.

Announcement of the first step on the part of the Harriman interests in complying with the dissolution decree was of little effect, some such a movement having been looked for. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific moved with the general market.

Bonds were under pressure with a sharp fall in some of the copper liens. Total sales, par value, $2,190,000. United States 3s declined 1-4 and 4s, 1-8 on call. Total sales today 500,500 shares.

FELL FROM TRAIN

Wayne County Young Man Victim of Serious Accident

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., January 13.—Clifton Pearson is lying in a most critical condition at the home of his sister, Mrs. Wiley Andrews, at Scottsville, three miles north of this city. He left here Saturday night on the shoo-fly to spend Sunday with his sister, Scottsville being a flag station, and was found about midnight in the ditch by a negro, Arthur Barnes, passing along the track within a short distance from the station. He was unconscious. Barnes hastened for help and awakened Mr. Wiley Andrews and when they lifted the unfortunate young man it was found to be his brother-in-law, and medical aid was promptly summoned. Young Pearson has not yet recovered consciousness and he is thought to be in a most serious condition. It is suggested that young Pearson had probably gone to the rear platform on the train nearing the station and stepped off in the dark.

and had corruptly influenced them to agree to give him a favorable option on the Katydid culm dump owned in part by the Erie's subsidiary company, the Hillside Coal & Iron Company. The vote in detail on this charge was:

For conviction—Ashurst, Bankhead, Borah, Bourne, Brandigee, Bristow, Brown, Bryan, Burton, Chamberlain, Clapp, Clark, of Wyoming; Clark, of Arkansas; Crane, Crawford, Culberson, Cullom, Cummins, Curtis, Dixon, Dupont, Fletcher, Foster, Gallinger, Gore, Gronna, Hitchcock, Johnson, of Maine; Jones, Kenyon, LaFollette, Lippitt, Lodge, McCumber, McLean, Martin, Martine, Myers, Nelson, Newlands, O'Gorman, Owen, Page, Perkins, Poindexter, Pomerene, Reed, Richardson, Root, Sanders, Shively, Simmons, Smith, of Georgia; Smith, Maryland; Smith, Arizona; Smoot, Stevenson, Stone, Southerland, Swanson, Thornton, Tillman, Townsend, Watson, Wetmore, Williams, Works.

Against conviction—Burnham, Catron, Oliver, Paynter and Penrose.

Absent, or not voting: Bacon, Bradley, Briggs, Chilton, Dillingham, Fall, Gamble, Gardner, Guggenheim, Heiskell, Arkansas; Jackson, Johnston, Alabama; Johnston, Texas; Lea, Overman, Percy, Smith, South Carolina; Smith, Michigan, and Watson.

The second charge was not sustained, the vote against Judge Archbald, 46 to 25, being two short of the necessary two-thirds.

On the third charge, involving the use of influence with the Lehigh Valley Railroad to force it to relinquish a lease on "Packer No. 3", a coal property which Judge Archbald wanted to get, the accused jurist was convicted by a vote of 60 to 11. Senator Brandegee, Clarke, of Wyoming; Crane, Smoot, Stephenson and Thornton, who had voted "guilty" on the first article, voted "not guilty on this charge.

Another verdict of "guilty" came on the fourth charge that Judge Archbald had wrongfully written to Helm Bruce, an attorney, in preparing a decision in a case then before the Commerce Court. The vote on this charge was 52 to 20. Additional Senators who voted "not guilty" on this charge were: Burton, Cullom, Dupont, Gallinger, Lippitt, McCumber, Root, Sutherland, Swanson, Warren and Wetmore, while Senator Thornton voted "guilty."

On the fifth charge that he had corruptly influenced officials of the Reading Railroad to grant a coal land lease to Frederick Warnke and had received compensation for this service, Judge Archbald received this vote: Senator Burnham, Catron, Clark of Wyoming, Oliver, Paynter and Penrose. He was convicted 66 to 6 on this article.

On the last article of impeachment alleging that Judge Archbald had sought credit from attorneys and litigants before him and had carried on a general business in coal land speculations, many Senators asked to be excused from voting, declaring the charges were so general they could not conscientiously vote either way. The final vote resulted in conviction on this article also 42 to 20.

Judge Archbald received majorities in his favor on seven of the charges against him, besides the acquittal on the second article where the two-thirds vote against him was not obtained.

On the charge that he wrongfully accepted a purse of $500 raised among Scranton attorneys, the vote was 65 "not guilty" and one "guilty", the single vote being cast by Senator Ashurst, of Arizona.

Although no debate was permitted during the progress of the voting, many Senators asked to be excused from voting on certain charges because they did not believe the Senate had authority to take up acts committed by Judge Archbald before he was appointed to the Commerce Court, or because they believed the acts that might be characterized as "misbehavior" were not such as to constitute "high crimes and misdemeanors" involving the extreme penalty of the constitution.

Senator Root, in a statement filed during the voting in which Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, partly concurred, said:

"I have voted that the respondent is guilty, under Articles 1, 2, 3, 5, 6 and 13, because I find that he used the power and influence of his office as judge of the Court of Commerce to secure favors of money value for himself and his friends, from railroad companies, some of which are litigants in his court, and all of which are under the relations of the Inter-State Commerce Commission subject to the Court of Commerce.

"I consider this course of conduct and each instance of it to be a high crime and misdemeanor. I voted not guilty upon the other articles, because while most of them involved improper conduct I don't consider that the acts proved are high crimes and misdemeanors."

The legal fight before the Senate was in the hands of seven members of the House of Representatives and Judge Archbald's attorney, who had the personal advice of Judge Archbald. The House managers and attorneys sat through the proceedings today silently waiting for the decision in the case. Those who conducted the prosecution were Representatives Clayton, of Alabama; Sterling, of Illinois; Floyd, of Arkansas; Webb, of North Carolina; Davis, of West Virginia; Norris, of Nebraska, and Howland, of Ohio, assisted by Wrisley Brown, of the Department of Justice, who conducted the first investigation of Judge Archbald's conduct.

At the conclusion of the case today Representative Clayton gave out the following statement:

"This is the third successful impeachment in the history of the United States. In the other cases Judge Pickering, who was insane, did not appear at all, and Judge Humphreys had cast his lot with the Confederacy and was within the Confederate lines.

Today's result proves the efficiency of the process provided by the Constitution for the removal of unfaithful officers, and gives life and vitality to the orderly method of impeachment. It also establishes beyond successful future dispute that the scope of impeachment is not limited to the commission of acts, but that the clause fixing the tenure of Federal judges to during good behavior, has a broader significance in facts, means just what it says. The appointment of Federal judges by the President and the confirmation of the Senate is the exercise of "political" power and the unseating of a judge is the exercise of a political power by the Senate, representing the States and the people."

that great impulse that now moves the whole people of the United States.

"I do not foresee any serious division of counsel in the Democratic party as a National body. On the contrary, I find every evidence of solidarity. I see every evidence that men who have not hitherto yielded their argument to the movement of the age are now about to yield their argument. I will not say they will. They do not seem to be acting under compulsion—they are beginning to yield their argument to the common judgment of the Nation. Because I find in discussing questions of business, contrary to the impression which prevails in some editorial rooms—that in speaking to men of business, I am speaking to men whose vision is swinging around to the path which the Nation has marked out for itself."

"This Nation is full of honorable men who have been engaged in large business in a way in which they thought they were permitted to do both by their conscience and the laws. But they have had their eyes closed to their ledgers; they have had their energies so absolutely absorbed in the undertakings with which they were industrially identified that they have not until the Nation spoke loud raised their eyes from their books and papers and seen how the things they were doing stood in relation to the fortunes of mankind.

"Now they are beginning to see these relationships and as they see these relationships they are beginning to feel the refreshment of men who look away from a particular task and extend their eyes to the fortune of men lying outside their usual ken, beyond their touch—the great bodies of men who would go a long with them, hope and struggle and achieve.

"* * * * You cannot whip a Nation into line. You cannot drive their leaders before you. You have got to have a spirit that thrills the whole body and I believe that that spirit is now beginning to thrill the whole body.

"* * * * A man can accomplish a great deal more in business, as I need hardly tell you, by the belief that people have in him that faith that inspires. And some men have made the profound mistake so far as their individual success is concerned of trying to succeed not by persuasion, not by confidence, but by creating the consciousness that they can spoil the careers of the men who do not work.

"I suppose some people have the idea that I love to fight just for the fun of it. Now, that is not in the least my temperament. I am really a very tame, amenable person; but I do love to feel in my blood the splendid satisfaction of fighting for something, something that is bigger than myself, and trying for the time at least to think I am as big as the thing I am fighting for.

"That is solid satisfaction and when I can, for the time being, represent the Democratic party and find that the Nation as a whole is thawing out towards the Democratic party, and more and more coming to believe that the Democratic party can do the thing which the country has been waiting for, then I enjoy the immense satisfaction of being part of a thing that is so much bigger than I am, that I can dream, at any rate, that I am taking my own measure by the think I belong to."

Telegrams came from Democratic committeemen throughout the Union congratulating the Governor in balloting today. New Jersey's ballot will be carried to Washington by Fitswilliam McMasters Woodrow, a cousin of the President-elect and a student of Princeton University.

Tomorrow the New Jersey Legislature will convene and will receive Governor Wilson's final message.

Wilson Formally Elected.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Electors in 48 States met today and formally elected Woodrow Wilson to the Presidency and Thomas R. Marshall to the Vice Presidency of the United States.

Returns prepared by the electors chosen at the polls last November are now on their way by mail to Washington to the president pro tem. of the Senate. Another set of these returns will be brought in person by an elector chosen from each State, to be canvassed February 12th, in joint session of the Senate and the House, when Governor Wilson formally will be proclaimed President.

In two of the States Utah and Vermont, four votes each were cast for President Taft for President and Nicholas Murray Butler for Vice President, the latter having been named by the Republican National Committee to succeed the late James S. Sherman on the Republican ticket.

of Superior Court the report contained the following:

"I have carefully checked his records and find that all moneys due the county have been turned over to your treasurer and properly receipted for. There are no criminal delinquents on his docket.

"Various funds in his care covering matters of probate, minors, etc., $13,752.71, have been carefully handled. I have verified balances shown on his pass books with banks in which they are deposited.

"It appears that his vault is crowded. I recommend that additional book shelves of the character now in use be provided by placing additional shelves on top of cases, extending same to the ceiling, in order that the records of the county in his care may continue to be so placed that they are readily accessible. In this connection I wish to call your attention to fact that suitable racks and compartments should be installed in basement's vaults. The records there are in a very unsatisfactory condition. I consider this most important.

"The compensation received in this office is entirely from fees, the amount of same I have no means of ascertaining."

The recommendation as to the increased vault room was referred to the Court House Committee, Col. John VanB. Metts, chairman, for further report.

Register of Deeds.

The Register of Deeds' office:

"The only source of income for the county from this office is from marriage licenses, the money being turned over to the treasurer monthly; the State's portion is turned over to the sheriff. This office also issues all business licenses, but the money is collected by the sheriff. I have checked these records and found all moneys properly accounted for. The records all appear to be in good shape.

"The same recommendation in regard to additional shelving for Clerk Superior Court applies here also.

"The compensation of this office is from fees received. I have no means of ascertaining full amount received per annum."

Upon motion the portion of the report recommending that more room in the vault be secured in the Clerk's office was also left with the Court House Committee for report.

The following reference to the county attorneys was left with the chairman:

"Besides their regular duties they collect delinquent taxes, for which they receive 10 per cent. of amount recovered. This is in addition to their annual compensation of $1,000.

"I have not attempted to list these delinquent taxes. There are open items dating as far back as 1871, and these open items I am informed, amount to between $25,000 and $30,000, of which it is estimated that about 10 per cent. are collectible.

"I am further informed that many errors were made in original listings, and that some of taxes charged were on land now in Pender county. However, it is a question for you to decide as to the wisdom of a revision of these lists to date."

The report as to county attorneys was also referred to the chairman.

Straight Talk!

The person who commences the week with the knowledge that the past week's salary is gone, and with a mortgage on the coming one, has little incentive to work, and, as a rule, does not give value received to his employer.

On the other hand, the man who has a snug savings account with this bank, and is adding to it constantly, it is safe to say, finds enjoyment in his work and is a valued employee.

Open a savings account with this bank. The 4 per cent. compound interest which we pay will assist the growth of the fund. Start today.
